A word from the Principal

The impact of business on all aspects of our lives is quickly becoming accepted wisdom across the world, consequently, tomorrow's professionals must appreciate that their decisions and actions will reverberate far beyond narrower business interests. This wider mantle of responsibility requires business school to reach past traditional boundaries of education, to foster ethical and responsible behavior among their students. The symbiotic relationship between the study of business science at RAICSIT and the growing international platform of the RAICSIT, position us well to meet this challenge. The RAICSIT is widely recognized for holding itself and its students to the highest standards of ethical conduct and social responsibility.
